

Master Approach Play

Golfer's who are serious about reducing their score need to master their approach shots into the green. Better players hit the ball closer to the target. So for £400 we are going to show you how to hit the ball closer, to know how far you hit your irons and much more!!! Interested? Contact us now and we can start to turn your irons into precision instruments.

Master Approach Play

And hit your shots from the fairway closer to the flag every time!

This program will focus on four areas of improvement

Knowing your distances

Better players know to within a few yards how far they hit each of their clubs. With the use of state of the art technology we will discovery your distances

Understanding your movement

Better players understand how to move to produce the best club delivery for consistent ball striking. We will help you find your own unique movement solution to solve this puzzle!

Added versatility

Better golfers have a vast library of shots that they can hit. They can control the trajectory that the ball flies on. We will work together on your skill development

Added power

Striking the ball from the middle of the club face will help you hit it further but we will show you how you can hit it even further with some key 'power moves'

Benchmarking

How good is good? We will give you an understanding of proximity by score. What we mean is we will give you an understanding of how close you should be hitting the ball on average to achieve certain scores
