

Greg Brodie Golf brings you a first-class on-line educational portal to help with your golf development.

This online resource over 50 hours of video instruction, calling on the latest academic and technical information the industry has to offer.

This e-solution has over 2000 shot recommendations for your practice, and numerous templates that you can use in helping you plan your golf effectively. This is done with help in setting your goals, plans and instruction on how to best self-evaluate your game and utilise your statistical data to set performance goals and key performance indicators for the coming year.

The user is also offered their own unique, bespoke, individualised and organic on-line portal. This creates a synergistic situation between all practitioners that are surrounding the golfing athlete. Here you can upload your goals, weekly and monthly goals, your statistics for analysis. Your fitness program can be uploaded in video format onto your portal so that when you are training you know exactly what you are trying to achieve. You can also share your daily reflections with team members.

One of the most beneficial features is that you can gain real time feedback whilst you practice. By uploading video of your motion when you are playing or practicing the team will be sent a notification email that you have uploaded film, all of this in real time. The team member can respond through video, auditory or written feedback instantly and send you feedback all within minutes of your original post. Giving you unrivalled support from anywhere in the world.

This is a phenomenal support service for you as the golfer.
